

Fair Registration Practices Report

Midwives (2010)

The answers that you submitted to OFC can be seen below.

This Fair Registration Practices Report was produced as required by:

- the Fair Access to Regulated Professions Act (FARPA) s. 20 and 23(1), for regulated professions named in Schedule 1 of FARPA
- the Health Professions Procedural Code set out in Schedule 2 of the Regulated Health Professions Act (RHPA) s. 22.7 (1) and 22.9(1), for health colleges.

Provision of Information About Registration Practices (1 / 13)

Describe how you make information about registration practices available to individuals applying or intending to apply for registration. Specify the tools used to provide information, and the manner in which you make that information available, current, accurate and user friendly in each of these subcategories:

a) steps to initiate the registration process

Applicants to the College of Midwives of Ontario are either graduates of the Midwifery Education Program, the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program, or registrants from another province of Canada.

To initiate the registration process the College of Midwives of Ontario

1) provides applicants with an application package containing the following documents:

- Registration Application form
- Registration Application Guidelines
- Check list of required documents
- College Steps in the Registration Process
- Finding Answers to your Questions
- Supervision Information

2) makes an annual presentation in-person to the graduating classes of the Midwifery Education Program and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program. This comprehensive presentation uses PowerPoint slides with accompanying hard-copy print outs. College staff respond to questions from the students. All graduating students receive a College of Midwives of Ontario application package. Additionally, the College collects e-mail addresses from students of the graduating classes in order to communicate prior to registration if needed.

Application requirements and forms are available for download on the College website under “Becoming Registered” with information for internationally trained midwives and applicants from other Canadian jurisdictions clearly identified. Forms and documents can be provided by mail, e-mail, or in person.

The application package and information on the website are reviewed annually by College staff to ensure that all information is current and that requirements are clear. In 2010, the College posted registration related policies on the website under “Becoming Registered>Registration Related Policies” (<http://www.cmo.on.ca/RegistrationRelatedPolicies.php>).

In addition to information provided by the College of Midwives of Ontario, the International Midwifery Pre-Registration Program provides access to registration information for internationally trained midwives through the following:

- Advertising in focused community resources such as
  - Caribbean, Indian, Asian, Somali, and Chinese newspapers
  - Metro, Toronto Star and Globe and Mail newspapers.
- Holding public information forums at organizations such as Skills for Change, the Maytree Foundation, and community fairs for new immigrants
- Advertising annually in the British Journal of Midwifery
  - Early experience demonstrated that midwives who are still engaged in their professional track turn to professional journals rather than community newspapers. These advertisements reach more potential applicants as well as applicants who are more likely to be eligible for admission.
  - Ads are placed in January or February, which allows interested individuals to complete an application for the September deadline.
  - Approximately one-quarter of international applicants come through England. This is a particularly common route of entry for Caribbean- and African-trained midwives.
  - Advertising in this journal targets those who are already in the process of immigration and helps to prevent loss of time by allowing interested individuals to understand registration requirements and to begin the application process.

- Maintaining a presence on the Ryerson University website, which provides a direct link to program staff, who respond personally to every enquiry
- Conducting face-to-face interviews upon request
- Holding an annual orientation to midwifery weekend during the third week of March. One third of those who attend the orientation are not yet residents of Ontario or Canada

The International Midwifery Pre-Registration Program does not actively recruit from non-Western countries as there is an acknowledged health-care crisis in many of these countries. To recruit professionals from these areas has been deemed unethical.

b) requirements for registration

The requirements for registration are presented to potential applicants

- 1) in person at the presentation to the graduating classes of the Midwifery Education Program and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program;
- 2) online under “Becoming Registered” on the College of Midwives of Ontario website;

This section of the College website outlines the requirements for registration in an easy-to-understand format. Details of how to access the midwifery profession in Ontario are broken down into sections of information that can be found easily using the left navigation menu. These sections include eligibility for registration, classes of registration, registration process, labour market information, fees, and how to find more information.

This information is also available on the Ontario Ministry of Citizenship and Immigration website.

The Government of Canada “Working in Canada” tool has links to the College website.

- 3) in print as part of the College of Midwives of Ontario Registrant’s Binder;

The Registrant’s Binder contains all regulations, standards and policies that govern the profession of midwifery in Ontario including the registration regulations, contact information, and fees.

All of the policies, guidelines, standards and statements that are included in the Registrant's Binder are accessible online on the College website at no cost. A hard copy of the Registrant's Binder is available for purchase.

- 4) in the Registration Application Guidelines included in the application package;
- 5) in a document checklist included in the application package; and
- 6) by phone, email, and walk-in customer service.

College staff review the requirements for registration annually to ensure that all information is current, accurate, and easy to understand.

c) explanation of how the requirements for registration are to be met, such as the number of years of schooling required for a degree to be deemed equivalent to an Ontario undergraduate degree, length and type of work experience, credit hours or program content

Explanation of how the requirements for registration as a midwife in Ontario are to be met is given

- 1) in person at the presentation to the graduating classes of the Midwifery Education Program and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program;
- 2) online on the College of Midwives of Ontario website under "Becoming Registered>Access to the Midwifery Profession in Ontario>Eligibility for Registration as a Midwife in Ontario";
- 3) in print as part of the College of Midwives of Ontario Registrant's Binder; and
- 4) by phone, email, and walk-in customer service.

Midwives trained outside Canada are referred to the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program operated by a consortium made up of the following organizations:

- Ryerson University's G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education
- College of Midwives of Ontario
- Ontario Midwifery Education Program

Contact information for the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program is provided on the College of Midwives of Ontario website. The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program provides information about registration requirements to potential applicants.

Applicants from other Canadian jurisdictions where midwifery is regulated are directed on the website to contact the College for information about labour mobility and registration. Explanations may be given by phone, email, in-person, and regular mail correspondence.

The Ontario Midwifery Education Program leads to the degree Bachelor of Health Sciences (B.H.Sc.) in Midwifery. Midwifery education programs are currently offered at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ryerson University in Toronto, and Laurentian University in Sudbury.

College staff review annually the explanation of how the requirements for registration are to be met, ensuring that all information is current, accurate, and easy to understand.

d) any education or practical experience required for registration that must be completed in Ontario or practice that must be supervised by a member of the profession who is registered in Ontario

Information about education and practical experience required for registration is explained

- 1) in person by program faculty at the orientation to the Midwifery Education Program and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program;
- 2) in person by College staff at the presentation to graduating classes;
- 3) online on the College of Midwives of Ontario website under “Becoming Registered>Access to the Midwifery Profession in Ontario”; and
- 4) by phone, email, and walk-in customer service.

International Midwifery Pre-registration Program graduates are registered as Supervised Midwives for one year while completing an individualized supervision plan. The College prepares an individual supervision plan for the applicant. This plan addresses both clinical number deficiencies and any gaps in clinical skills identified by the program. The successful completion of the supervision plan satisfies the same clinical entry requirements as midwives educated in Ontario. This information is accessible on the College website under “Becoming Registered>Access to the Midwifery Profession in Ontario>Classes of Registration”.

Several required practical experiences are provided through the Midwifery Education Program and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program—for example, a clinical clerkship, certification in neonatal resuscitation, and certification in emergency skills. Information about these requirements is provided to potential registrants at the orientation to those programs.

College staff review the presentation materials and website information annually, ensuring that all information is current, accurate, and easy to understand.

e) requirements that may be satisfied through acceptable alternatives

Eligibility for registration as a midwife in Ontario is clearly explained

College staff review the presentation materials and website information annually, ensuring that all information is current, accurate, and easy to understand.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program, as part of its initial information session and on an on-going basis, provides information about acceptable alternatives wherever possible. For example, a required jurisprudence course (offered through the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program as the Canadian Health Care System Course) can be replaced with a university-level system course from any North American university or a three-hour challenge exam (for which the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program provides preparation materials).

h) acceptable alternatives to the documentation if applicants cannot obtain the required documentation for reasons beyond their control

There are no alternatives to the documentation requirements for registration with the College of Midwives of Ontario. An applicant who has questions about documentation requirements may contact the College. Contact information is clearly outlined in the application package and on the College website under “Becoming Internationally trained midwives who cannot obtain the required documentation for reasons beyond their control are referred to the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program.

The College of Midwives of Ontario and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program are sensitive to stresses on immigrants, particularly those who are political refugees, and those who come from countries where there is unrest or natural disaster. Staff from the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program meet with all applicants; any individuals who come from these types of circumstances discuss alternative documentation (e.g., an affidavit from a supervisor or colleague) at this meeting. In instances where no documentation is available, the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program liaises with the College of Midwives of Ontario to determine if other competency assessments can be used.

Provision of Timely Decisions, Responses and Reasons (3 / 13)

a) What are your timelines for making registration decisions?

The College of Midwives of Ontario has a straightforward administrative flow. Once a completed application has been received, it is processed within two to four weeks.

Midwifery is a managed program that relies on funding from the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care. The Association of Midwives relies on funding and cannot provide liability insurance until funding is available. Midwifery practices must also wait for funding announcements to determine if they are able to hire new midwives. For these reasons, many midwives newly graduated from the Midwifery Education Program and International Midwifery Pre-registration Program wait to register until they know that they have a position with a practice. To facilitate the processing of applications, the College accepts completed application packages and, if directed, waits until funding is announced before finalizing the processing of the application.

The College of Midwives of Ontario

- 1) confirms receipt of an application in writing within seven days of receiving it;
- 2) informs the applicant in writing within 14 days if the application is incomplete—for example, if any fees or documentation are missing;
- 3) advises the applicant within 14 days if the application is being referred to a Registration Committee panel;
- 4) advises the applicant within 14 days if the application is complete;
- 5) advises the applicant of registration by email immediately and in writing by fax within 24 hours; and
- 6) issues a certificate of registration by mail.

b) What are your timelines for responding to applicants in writing?

The College of Midwives of Ontario responds to applicants in writing within

- seven days to confirm receipt of application;
- 14 days to notify of referral to a registration panel (if necessary);
- 14 days to confirm a complete or incomplete application; and
- Two to four weeks to confirm registration.

c) What are your timelines for providing written reasons to applicants about all registration decisions, internal reviews and appeal decisions?

If there are any questions regarding an applicant's qualifications to practice, a registration panel is formed, made up of members of the Registration Committee. In accordance with the Regulated Health Professions Act, the College of Midwives of Ontario notifies the applicant if the application has been referred to a Registration Committee panel. The panel convenes 30 days later, allowing the applicant time to make a submission should they wish. Once the panel meets and reviews the application, it renders a decision within 30 days.

d) Explain how your organization ensures that it adheres to these timelines.

The College of Midwives of Ontario's staff and Registration Committee conduct an internal administrative review annually to ensure that all timelines are met.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

In 2010, the College of Midwives of Ontario approved the "Processing Registration Applications" policy that outlines the accepted timelines for processing registration applications and specifies the content of written responses given to applicants. This policy is available on the College website under “Becoming Registered>Registration Related Policies”.

a) Describe how you give applicants access to their own records related to their applications for registration.

An applicant must submit a written request and make payment of $50 to receive a copy of their registration records.

b) Explain why access to applicants' own records would be limited or refused.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

Access to an applicant's own records would not be limited or refused.

The fee for making records available is outlined in the College of Midwives of Ontario policy “Access to Registration Applicant Records”. The policy is available on the College website at <http://www.cmo.on.ca/RegistrationRelatedPolicies.php>. Applicants are also informed of the fee upon inquiry by phone, email and walk-in customer service.

d) List the fees for making records available.

There is a $50 fee for making records available as stated in the "Access to Registration Applicant Records" policy.

e) Describe the circumstances under which payment of the fees for making records available would be waived or would have been waived.

The College would consider waiving the fee if the applicant had sufficient reason, for example, financial hardship

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

The College of Midwives of Ontario Council approved the "Access to Registration Applicant Records" policy in November 2009 for implementation on January 1, 2010. The College Registration Application Guidelines were updated to inform applicants of the fees.

At the annual presentation to the graduating classes of the Midwifery Education Program and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program, an application package with the following resources is distributed:

- Application form
- Application guidelines
- Checklist for required documentation

Internal Review or Appeal Processes (6 / 13)

In this section, describe your internal review or appeal process. Some regulatory bodies use these two terms (internal review and appeal) for two different processes, some use only one of these terms, and some use them interchangeably. Please use the term that applies to your profession. If you use both terms (for two different processes), please address both.

a) List your timelines for completing internal reviews or appeals of registration decisions.

If there are any questions regarding an applicant's qualifications to practice, a registration panel is formed made up of members of the Registration Committee. In accordance with the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991, 18(1), the College of Midwives of Ontario notifies the applicant if the application has been referred to a Registration Committee panel. The panel convenes 30 days later allowing the applicant time to make a submission should they wish. Once the panel meets and reviews the application, it renders a decision within 30 days.

Registration decisions can be appealed to the Health Professions Appeal and Review Board, which is an independent agency of the Government of Ontario and is regulated by the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991.

i. State the number of internal reviews or appeals of registration decisions that exceeded your timelines.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

No internal reviews exceeded College timelines.

ii. Among internal reviews or appeals that exceeded your timelines, state the number that were from internationally trained applicants.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

No internal reviews exceeded College timelines for internationally trained applicants.

b) Specify the opportunities you provide for applicants to make submissions regarding internal reviews or appeals.

In accordance with the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991, 18(1), the College of Midwives of Ontario notifies the applicant if their application has been referred to a Registration Committee panel. The panel convenes 30 days later, allowing the applicant time to make a submission should they wish.

c) Explain how you inform applicants about the form in which they must make their submissions (i.e., orally, in writing or by electronic means) for internal reviews or appeals.

For internal reviews, the College of Midwives of Ontario informs applicants in writing about the reasons for the review and explains the process. Applicants are informed that they may make a written submission to the Registration Committee panel and are given 30 days to submit additional information.

For external reviews, the College of Midwives of Ontario refers applicants to the Health Professions Appeal and Review Board. Contact information for the Health Professions Appeal and Review Board is provided to the applicant in writing and is also available on the College website.

d) State how you ensure that no one who acted as a decision-maker in a registration decision acts as a decision-maker in an internal review or appeal of the same registration decision.

The Registrar refers internal reviews of registration decisions to the Registration Committee. The Registration Committee convenes a registration panel to make registration decisions. A registration panel is composed of three members of the Registration Committee and includes at least one professional and one public member.

Accurate minutes are maintained for every panel review. If a subsequent panel review is required, panel members not involved in the first decision are appointed.

The College of Midwives of Ontario does not conduct appeals of registration decisions.

Registration decisions can be appealed to the Health Professions Appeal and Review Board, which is an independent agency of the Government of Ontario and is regulated by the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991.

e) Describe your internal review or appeal process.

The College of Midwives of Ontario's registration appeal process was developed in accordance with, and to meet the requirements of, the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991. A proposal by the Registrar to refuse to issue a registration to an applicant must be referred to a panel of the Registration Committee.

The Registration Committee is composed of three professional members and three public members.

If the Registration Committee directs the Registrar to refuse to issue a registration, or to impose terms, limitations, or conditions on a registration, the applicant can appeal to the Health Professions Appeal and Review Board. Registration decisions are issued in writing to the applicant and include reasons for the decision. Applicants can access all the information concerning the decision with respect to their case.

Information about appeals of decisions is available on the College website.

f) State the composition of the committee that makes decisions about registration, which may be called a Registration Committee or Appeals Committee: how many members does the committee have; how many committee members are members of the profession in Ontario; and how many committee members are internationally trained members of the profession in Ontario.

The Registration Committee has six members: three professional members and three public members.

Registration decisions are referred to a registration panel. A registration panel is composed of three members of the Registration Committee including one professional and one public member of the College of Midwives of Ontario Council.

From January 1, 2010 to September 15, 2010 the chair of the Registration Committee and Registration panels was an internationally trained midwife.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

The College of Midwives of Ontario Council approved the "Panel Member Appointment" policy that outlines how registration panel members are appointed from the Registration Committee and what criteria are used for their appointment .

The criteria that must be met in order for an applicant's qualifications to satisfy the entry-to-practice requirements of the College of Midwives of Ontario are

- 1) successful completion of a 4-year baccalaureate degree in the Ontario Midwifery Educational Program or International Midwifery Pre-registration Program; or an equivalent program as approved by the College of Midwives of Ontario; or be a general registrant in good standing in another province of Canada;
- 2) attendance of at least 60 births of which: 40 shall be as a primary midwife, 30 shall be attended as part of the care provided to a woman in accordance with the principles of continuity of care, 10 shall have been in hospital, and 10 shall have been in a residence or remote clinic or remote birth centre, of which 5 will have been as a primary midwife. The clinical requirements may be satisfied through participation in a midwifery education program or a College-approved supervised practice; and
- 3) certification in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), emergency skills (ES), and the neonatal resuscitation program (NRP). CPR and ES certification must be within the previous 24 months; NRP certification must be within the previous 12 months.

The Midwifery Education Program enables its students to attend 60 births within the program. Internationally trained midwives are credited with 20 births, in recognition of their previous work experience, and must attend 40 births in the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program. If an applicant has not attended enough births, the application is referred to a panel.

Internationally trained midwives must complete the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program at Ryerson University.

b) Describe the methodology used to determine whether a program completed outside of Canada satisfies the requirements for registration.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program uses World Education Services to determine whether a program completed outside Canada satisfies the requirements for entry to the bridging program. Note however, that assessment is based on the internationally trained midwife's competencies, not on the program completed. Approximately 10% of the programs seen by the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program would be acceptable if evaluated in isolation of competency.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program tests competencies using an Objective Simulated Clinical Examination.

c) Explain how work experience in the profession is assessed.

The College of Midwives of Ontario does not assess work experience.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program assesses work experience using

- self-assessment by the individual applicant;
- references from previous supervisors or colleagues, if available; and
- affidavits if the individual's circumstances dictate (e.g., in the case of a political refugee).

d) Describe how your organization ensures that information used in the assessment about educational systems and credentials of applicants from outside Canada is current and accurate.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program uses World Education Services and reviews and verifies information through direct follow-up with the educational institution if needed and where it is possible to do so.

e) Describe how previous assessment decisions are used to assist in maintaining consistency when assessing credentials of applicants from the same jurisdictions or institutions.

Because of the commitment to diversity and the belief that competency-based assessments are the fairest and most effective, the College of Midwives of Ontario supports the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program in not rendering decisions based on previous assessments of jurisdictions or institutions.

f) Explain how the status of an institution in its home country affects recognition of the credentials of applicants by your organization.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The status of an institution in its home country does not affect recognition of an applicant's credentials. The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program is charged with finding out as much as possible about an institution as part of the assessment but not with relying on the institution's status.

This practice is based on the fact that standards for educational programs at institutions in other countries may change depending on political and cultural circumstances.

g) Describe how your organization accommodates applicants with special needs, such as visual impairment.

College staff would meet with any individual who had special needs that require accommodation. Note, however, that the requirements of practice dictate the degree of accommodation that could be offered.

Contact information is outlined in the application package and on the College website under "Becoming Registered>Registration Application Documents>Finding Answers to Your Questions".

h) State the average length of time required to complete the entire registration process, from when the process is initiated to when a registration decision is issued.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The average length of time required to complete the entire registration process, from initial application to registration, is 30 days. If a registration panel is necessary, the average length of time is 60 days.

i. State whether the average time differs for internationally trained individuals.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The average length of time does not differ for internationally trained individuals who are graduates of the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program.

ii. If the average time differs for internationally trained individuals, state whether it is greater or less than the average for all applicants, and the reasons for the difference.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The average length of time does not differ for internationally trained individuals who are graduates of the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program.

i) If your organization conducts credential assessments:

i. Explain how you determine the level (e.g., baccalaureate, master's, Ph.D.) of the credential presented for assessment.

The College of Midwives of Ontario does not perform any internal credentials assessments. The College uses the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program to make assessments.

l) If your organization administers examinations:

i. Describe the exam format, scoring method and number of rewrites permitted.

Third-Party Organizations (9 / 13)

a) List any third-party organizations (such as language testers, credential assessors or examiners) relied upon by your organization to make assessment decisions.

The College of Midwives of Ontario relies upon the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program to make assessment recommendations related to admission to the bridging program.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program is funded by the Government of Ontario and operates as a bridging program provided by the G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education on behalf of the College of Midwives of Ontario.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program was developed by a consortium of the following organizations:

- Ryerson University's G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education
- College of Midwives of Ontario
- Midwifery Education Program

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program is a nine-month bridging program with an accelerated stream option of 22 weeks. It provides internationally educated midwives with the following:

- prior learning assessment and access to resources and learning opportunities for required Canadian midwifery competencies;
- orientation to the model of midwifery care, community and institutional environments of midwifery practice, professional communication and cultural role expectations of primary care in a client centered model, and health care technologies in Canadian maternity care;
- observational placements and clinical training opportunities in community and hospital settings followed by a three-month full-time mentored and evaluated midwifery clerkship placement in a community practice;
- provision of certification programs required by hospitals and midwifery regulation, including neonatal resuscitation, emergency skills in obstetrics, fetal surveillance, IV therapy, induction, and epidural maintenance;
- continuous evaluation and remediation with written, oral, and clinical assignments and exams, and a final pre-registration International Midwifery Pre-registration Program exam that completes the bridging program and assists in preparing candidates for the Canadian Midwifery Registration Examination.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program works with World Education Services, employs experts in English as a second language to mark the Midwifery Language Proficiency Test and to review written assignments submitted by students, and contracts with practicing health professionals to evaluate student performance in areas such as neonatal resuscitation and fetal monitoring.

b) Explain what measures your organization takes to ensure that any third-party organization that it relies upon to make an assessment:

i. provides information about assessment practices to applicants

The College of Midwives of Ontario and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program have a shared standing committee that meets regularly to review the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program's role and function as a third-party assessment organization. Additionally, the College's council reviews and approves International Midwifery Pre-registration Program policy changes that relate to registration requirements. In February 2010, the College of Midwives of Ontario Council approved the "CMO/IMPP Relationship" policy that defines and explains the ongoing relationship between the College of Midwives of Ontario and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program at Ryerson University. Information about the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program's assessment practices is publicly available on the program website. The College of Midwives of Ontario reviews the assessment practices, including provision of information, as part of its ongoing oversight of International Midwifery Pre-registration Program policies.

ii. utilizes current and accurate information about qualifications from outside Canada

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program uses World Education Services to evaluate qualifications from outside Canada. World Education Services is used by many regulatory bodies and the College of Midwives of Ontario acknowledges that it is an effective organization.

The College of Midwives of Ontario is aware that the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program has never refused an applicant the opportunity to complete the Objective Structured Clinical Examination portion of the application process based on information about qualifications from outside Canada.

iii. provides timely decisions, responses and reasons to applicants

The College of Midwives of Ontario is aware that the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program uses as its lead specialists practicing midwives with more than ten years of clinical experience and previous experience as either College of Midwives of Ontario or Midwifery Education Program consultants or employees. These leads oversee "train-the-trainer" sessions and are directly involved in teaching internationally trained individuals.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program has been prioritizing training for International Midwifery Pre-registration Program graduates to act as leads. At this point, 20% of community preceptors and 40% of Objective Structured Clinical Examination evaluators are International Midwifery Pre-registration Program graduates.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program reports to the College of Midwives of Ontario regularly about staffing developments and provides specific information about instructor training and development.

v. provides access to records related to the assessment to applicants

Unsuccessful applicants are provided with general feedback (e.g., the percentile in which they were graded) on their performance in the application process. Anyone who was unsuccessful but who was close to being accepted is offered a face-to-face meeting with International Midwifery Pre-registration Program staff to review their results and to receive feedback on areas and strategies for improvement should they wish to reapply to the program.

Once accepted into the program, students are permitted access to all their assessment –related records through review-of-record sessions that are run for study purposes.

vi. accommodates applicants with special needs, such as visual impairment

Ryerson University has supports and services to accommodate students with special needs. These supports and services are available to any applicant who requires them.

c) If your organization relies on a third party to conduct credential assessments:

i. Explain how the third party determines the level (e.g., baccalaureate, master's, Ph.D.) of the credential presented for assessment.

N/A. The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program conducts competency-based assessments. Therefore, the level of credential presented for assessment is not relevant.

ii. Describe the criteria that are applied to determine equivalency.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

As stated in Item (i) above, International Midwifery Pre-registration Program assessments are competency-based. Equivalency is a difficult concept in the midwifery profession because there are

- fewer than 10 Ph.D. programs worldwide;
- Master's programs in only a few western countries;
- less than 10% of countries that require a baccalaureate to practice midwifery; and
- no countries where entry to practice depends on a Master's degree or Ph.D.

iii. Explain how work experience is taken into account.

Work experience is used as part of the competency-based assessment approach (rather than a simple assessment of credentials) and as part of the alternate entry stream. Applicants document their work experience and have the opportunity to use it to support their application to the program.

In keeping with the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program and the College of Midwives of Ontario's commitment to diversity and access, the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program does not discriminate against internationally trained applicants because of interruptions in work experience. The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program sees a considerable number of applications from women who have completed their education and then left the profession soon afterward to have children. As well, many immigrants (particularly those who come to Canada indirectly) experience unavoidable interruptions in their work experience while they move through the immigration process.

d) If your organization relies on a third party to conduct competency assessments:

i. Describe the methodology used to evaluate competency.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

Competency is evaluated at the point of application and throughout the program using a multi-pronged approach including the following:

- self-assessment by the internationally trained midwife;
- written competency assessments;
- oral competency assessments;
- filmed experiences; and
- Objective Structured Clinical Examinations.

ii. Explain how the methodology used to evaluate competency is validated, and how often it is validated.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The methodology used to evaluate competency is validated annually by
1) a team of instructors and assessors from within the program; and
2) an external team of evaluators appointed by Ryerson University.

iii. Explain how work experience is used in the assessment of competency.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program is committed to competency assessment rather than credential assessment. Work experience is the central provider of competency assessment. Applicants document their work experience and have the opportunity to use it to support their application to the program.

e) If your organization relies on a third party to conduct prior learning assessments:

i. Describe the methodology used to evaluate prior learning.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

Prior learning is evaluated as part of the competency-based assessment done during the application process. This includes the following:

- assessment of the program of study by World Education Services;
- self-assessment by the internationally trained midwife;
- written competency assessments;
- oral competency assessments;
- filmed experiences; and
- Objective Structured Clinical Examinations.

ii. Explain how the methodology used to evaluate prior learning is validated, and how often it is validated.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program relies on World Education Services to evaluate programs.

The methodology used to evaluate an individual's prior learning is validated annually by the program director in coordination with a team of instructors and assessors from within the program.

iii. Explain how work experience is used in the assessment of prior learning.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program is committed to competency assessment rather than credential assessment. Work experience is the central provider of prior learning.

Applicants document their work experience and have the opportunity to use it to support their application to the program.

f ) If your organization relies on a third party to administer examinations:

i. Describe the exam format, scoring method and number of rewrites permitted.

The College of Midwives of Ontario does not currently require the successful completion of an exam as an entry-to-practice requirement.

ii. Describe how the exam is tested for validity and reliability. If results are below desired levels, describe how you correct the deficiencies.

N/A. The College of Midwives of Ontario does not currently require the successful completion of an exam as an entry-to-practice requirement.

iii. State how often exam questions are updated and the process for doing so.

N/A. The College of Midwives of Ontario does not currently require the successful completion of an exam as an entry-to-practice requirement.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

In 2010, the College of Midwives of Ontario Council approved the "CMO/IMPP Relationship" policy that defines and explains the ongoing relationship between the College of Midwives of Ontario and the International Midwifery Pre-registration Program at Ryerson University. ## Agreements on the Recognition of Qualifications (11 / 13)

Examples of agreements on the recognition of professional qualifications include mutual recognition, reciprocity and labour mobility agreements. Such agreements may be national or international, between regulatory bodies, associations or jurisdictions.

a) List any agreements on the recognition of qualifications that were in place during the reporting period.

*** SAME AS LAST YEAR ***

- Agreement on Mobility for Midwifery in Canada.
- Agreement on Internal Trade

b) Explain the impact of these agreements on the registration process or on applicants for registration.

The Agreement on Mobility for Midwifery in Canada allows the College of Midwives of Ontario to recognize the qualifications of midwives who are general registrants in other provinces of Canada where midwifery is regulated. No further education or qualifications are required.

Changes to the Agreement on Internal Trade took effect on August 1, 2009. With some exceptions, if a midwife in good standing from a province where midwifery is regulated is applying to become a midwife in Ontario, the Agreement on Internal Trade provides that the midwife must be accepted in Ontario.

Changes to legislation must still be made in order for the law in Ontario to "catch up" to the changes made in the Agreement on Internal Trade. Until the Ontario Labour Mobility Act, 2009 becomes law the existing legislation applicable to the registration of midwives in Ontario is still the law that must be followed.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

There were no changes to agreements on the recognition of qualifications in 2010.
